

Skin-care swag

(From left) ReNew Age Defying Moisturizer, $92, with skin-renewing and firming properties. Ultra Rich Eye Therapy (not included in the Oscars gift bag), $50, a cream that firms and exfoliates the under-eye area. Ultra Hyaluronic Intense Moisturizer (not included in gift bag), $40, for extremely dry skin. Pumpkin Wine Toner, $38, with antioxidants and collagen-supporting nutrients. Purifying Toner, $25, with grape seed extract. Pure Bliss Wash, $25, a gentle face wash with cranberry extract and shea butter. Active Mint Wash, $25, an exfoliating, oil-controlling face wash that has a special formula of alpha-hydroxy acids.

Pumpkin Wine Enzyme (not included in gift bag), $45-$68, a face mask with antioxidants. Raspberry Enzyme, $45-$68, a facial peel that firms the skin. Deep Clean Pumice Scrub, $30-$45, an invigorating face scrub with peppermint, tea tree oil and zeolite to renew skin. Ultra Hyaluronic Serum, $50, a non-oily serum. C-Firm 20% Serum (not included in gift bag), $65, treats mature and sun-damaged skin.

SEALED WITH A GIFT—THAT'S SWAG! The gold statuette is the ultimate parting gift at the Oscars, but the swag bag is a close second.

Hollywood's hottest celebrities came out in their finest regalia to partake in the 79th Academy Awards, and as with most high-profile red-carpet events, they received luxurious gift bags filled with some of the latest products on the market.

Scottsdale facial plastic surgeon Ronald J. Caniglia (right) created the Caniglia Skin Care line, which made its debut at the Oscars as the only skin-care line gifted at the exclusive event.

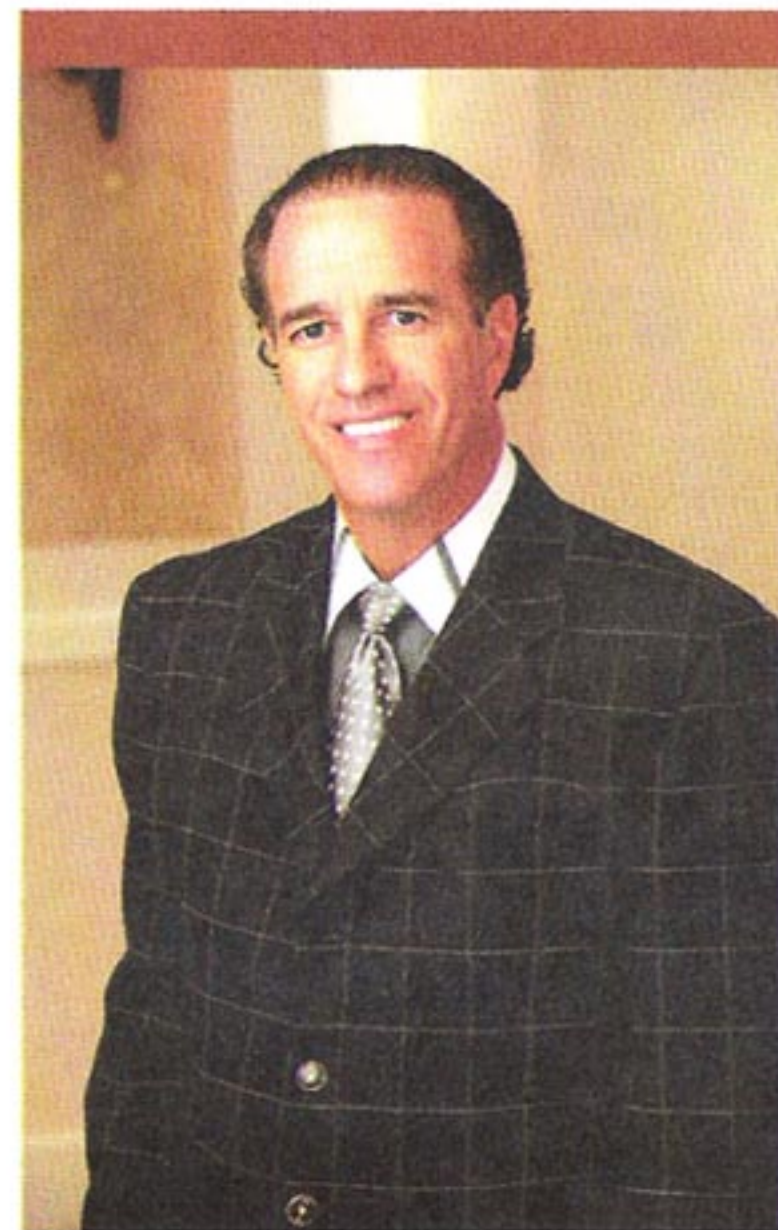

With an abundance of skin-care products on the market, one might ponder the need for another.

"While treating skin postoperative, I tried hundreds of products. I needed something that would maintain the results," Caniglia says. "I wanted to develop a product line that was complete, addressing oily, dry and acne-prone skin."

The line's signature product is ReNew Age Defying Moisturizer, a three-in-one moisturizer, skin renewer and firmer. An additional benefit is the line's use of natural ingredients such as fruit enzymes and shea butter.

Want to fill your bag with a little red-carpet swag? Here are Caniglia Skin Care products, including those gifted at the Oscars.

You can purchase the products at the Caniglia Center in Scottsdale or drcaniglia.com.

WRITTEN BY MIGNON A. GOULD; PHOTOS FROM COMPANY